POLYNESIA ENCAMPMENT NO. 1, Hawaiian Realty and Maturity, Asks for $4750 Each From Co. Found in Rotten Condition.

Wade Warren Thayer, the special atof a receiver for the concern.

Registrar Henry Hapai has reported on his examination of the books of the Hawaiian Realty and Maturity Co., Ltd., to Attorney General C. R. Hemen-

He says his examination was a personal one. The cash book prior to July 1, 1905, and the journal were missing. It was therefore impossible for him to check the original ledger. That book appeared to have been unintelligibly kept and Mr. Hapai was of the opinion 'that certain entries were improperly made and cash receipts unaccounted for." To arrive at the status of the company as of a certain day, he used the membership ledger to ascertain the total deposits and withdrawals. He selected October 31, 1907, and found the following:

Cash balance in First National Bank,

Mortgages outstanding, $1861.37. Real estate as per conveyances by Annie Holt Kentwell and husband to' the corporation, $36,940; less sale of Makaha interest in said conveyance, $1500, and Waialua interest, $6000; leaving $29,440 as value of real estate. But the examiner found an item of $7750 to the credit of real estate account, but finding no evidence of such a transaction he treats it as an entry improperly made and reduces the total assets accordingly to $23,703. Both the Waialua item of $6000 and the $7750 item are unsatisfactory, but Mr. Hapai says he has no alternative but to leave the entries as made. What became of the cash he leaves an open question.

To arrive at the liabilities the stock and unpaid amounted to $17,560.

Then he tackled the question of what was due to members on deposit account. "Although juggling of accounts appears on the membership ledger," Mr. Hapai says, "it was the only evidence available from which to make this report." He arrived at the following data: Total amount paid in full as required by stock certificates, $17,250; less loans on stock, $1553.50; balance, $15,-

Total paid by members who failed to pay up in full as required by certificate, $56,057; loans, deducted, $9000 .-30; balance, $47,056.70. Total liability, $80,313.20, being $56,-610.16 in excess of assets. This is not counting furniture and fixtures valued by the company at $646.22 nor $3118. 39 in unsecured notes and I. O. Us. which Mr. Hapai regards as worthless. With these included the company's deficit, on the face of the books such as they are, would be reduced to $52,-

845,55. The Registrar took no notice of the expense or any other account bearing on the affairs of the company for the reason that the entries were improperly made. However, the profit and loss account showed a debit balance of Dunne appears for the prosecution, $966.0% on June 30, 1906, but how the and C. Creighton for the defendant. entries were made Mr. Hapai was unable to report, the journal having dis- mers, J. Horace Myatt, Wm. Lishman, appeared.
